Residents claimed that they saw about five or six monkeys running around the supermarket car park at around 3 in the afternoon. The monkeys have since disappeared, but the police have warned residents not to approach the monkeys if they return.

M: Good morning, Ms Witherspoon. Here are the documents you asked for yesterday.

Is there anything else that I can help you with? What are your plans for the day?

W: I'm going to work in my office this morning. If anybody calls, tell them that I'm in a meeting and that I'll call them back later.

M: How about this afternoon?

W: I'll be out at lunchtime as I'll be going to our head office downtown to hand in these documents, and then I'll be attending a conference the whole afternoon.

M: Very good.

W: Hello Chris, how's your work going?

M: Hi, Barbara. Not bad. Another 10 minutes or so and I'll be finished.

W: Well, I'm calling to ask if you'd like to have dinner with me and my parents this evening. We're going to a Korean restaurant this time.

M: That sounds great. It'll make a change from Chinese or Italian food.

W: Well, I was actually going to suggest an Indian restaurant for this evening, but my mother really wanted to try something different for a change.

M: That's fine. Just one thing, would you mind coming to pick me up at the office and giving me a ride to the restaurant?

W: Okay; I'll be there in...30 minutes?

M: Thanks. See you then.

52. Where will the man go for dinner this evening?

If you're looking for an easy pet to keep in a tropical country like Singapore, I'd recommend the corn snake. It's not only clean and quiet, but also has a really calm and gentle character. It won't grow very long and so all you need is a small fish tank to keep it in. Like any pet though, it does need some care. It doesn't like the cold, but you don't need to heat the tank in a hot place like Singapore. And although it only needs feeding once a week, it must have lots of water to drink and bathe in. Of course, it's a snake and most people don't like snakes.

53. Why is the corn snake an easy pet to keep?

Listening 6

M: Excuse me, I'm looking to buy some books on the history of clothes and fashion. Do you have any?

W: Gee, let me think. You could look in the culture section. But it only has books about traditional cultures.

M: Mm, I think I'm more interested in modern cultures.

W: In that case, forget about those books and look in the art section instead. But art books are mostly on European and Japanese fashion. Is that what you're looking for?

M: It might be. I'll go there.

W: Actually, after you've looked at the art books, you could also try the design section. There could be a few books on the history of fashion there.

M: Thanks very much! I'll do that!

54. Which section of the bookstore will the man go to first?

Listening 7

W: Tom, please come and help set the table for dinner.

M: Okay, mum! What's for dinner this evening?

W: Curry and rice.

M: What? I thought we were having hamburgers.

W: Yeah, I was going to make them, but I didn't have time. Let's have them tomorrow.

M: Okay.

W: By the way, what do you want for your lunchbox tomorrow? Pasta or fried chicken?

M: Could I have fried chicken, please? It's my favourite.

55. What will the woman prepare for dinner tomorrow night?

Listening 8

M: Are you still driving me to my doctor's appointment this afternoon?

W: Sorry, what time was it again? Remember, I don't finish work until around 2 o'clock today.

M: That's fine. It's at 3:15.

W: I can pick you up between 2:30 and 3 o'clock, if that's okay.

M: Any time before 3 would be fine. Thanks a lot. I'll see you later.

M: Congratulations to you too, Mary. Shall we take a picture together?

W: Good idea. How about in front of the university gate?

M: No, there are too many people at the moment. We'll never get a good shot. I reckon the best spot is by the pond. Or we could take one by the flowers over there. Which do you prefer?

W: I was going to suggest taking a photo by the café. But I like your idea of taking one near the water. Let's do that.

M: Great! Let's go.

M: Hello listeners, it's Frank Pope, with the Food Programme here on Radio Kobe.

Today, we're talking to Sophie Kim, the owner of the very popular chain of Iced Desserts cafés here in Kobe. She has just opened her fifth café and it's in the Motomachi area. I'm going to ask her to tell us a little bit more about her business. Welcome to our show, Sophie!

W: Hello. Frank. Thanks. It's a pleasure to be here.

M: So, Sophie, another Iced Desserts café in Motomachi? But there are already two in the area. Kobe people really love your cafés, don't they? What's your secret?

W: Basically, we offer customers the most delicious desserts that combine fruit pies, donuts or cakes with ice cream.

M: Mm, sounds delicious. Do you have a take-out service too?

W: Customers do have the option of buying a dessert to take home. But there are some desserts which are not possible to take out. For example, you can only eat our Special Strawberry Dessert in the café because it comes in an iced glass.

M: I see..., and what exactly is a Special Strawberry Dessert?

W: It's a warm chocolate donut that's cut up into pieces and put into an iced glass with five large strawberries. Then we add custard and vanilla ice cream along with sliced almonds. Finally, we pour chocolate sauce over the top of the dessert.

M: It sounds delicious. What's your best-selling dessert to take out?

W: It's our Walnut Ice Sandwich. For this, we put a layer of blueberry cheesecake ice cream between two slices of walnut cake. The ice cream also has some almond pieces added to it, and that's it. Adding chocolate sauce to this dessert would make it a little too sweet.

M: I don't know, about that. For me, chocolate sauce goes with everything!

W: I'm sure it does! Customers who eat in the café can also create their own special dessert from any combination of ice cream and fruit pie. We have ten kinds of fruit pie including papaya with strawberries, and pear with raspberries. The most popular by far among customers is the cherry and banana pie, but my favourite is the apple and blackberry pie.

M: Well, you offer a choice of so many delicious desserts, Sophie. Thank you for coming in today to tell us about Iced Desserts. I'll be visiting one of your cafés soon.

W: We look forward to welcoming you, Frank.

M: Good afternoon. This is Roberto at Dundee Travel Agency. How may I help you?

W: Hello. I would like to book a roundtrip flight from Sydney to Tokyo, please.

M: Okay. And what dates do you have in mind?

W: I'd like to leave on Saturday, March 3rd and then return to Sydney on Monday, March 19th.

M: Thank you. Just one moment, please. Okay, we have seats available on your requested departure date. However, there are no seats left on the 19th. Instead we have seats on March the 18th, March 20th, and March 21st.

W: Well, I suppose another day in Tokyo would be okay. So I'll come back a day later.

M: Great. Before we confirm your flight arrangements, I should let you know that your departure date falls on a weekend and the fare will be more expensive than on a weekday.

W: Oh really? What's the difference in price?

M: Well, the weekday fare is $1,200, but departures on Saturdays cost an extra $200 on top of that. So, as it stands now, your flight would be $1,400.

W: That's not too bad. I'll stick with the 3rd. I was also wondering if I can get a premium economy seat instead of a standard economy seat.

M: Yes. But I'm afraid that'll cost you a further $500.

W: Oh, $1,900 is a bit more than I can afford. I'll stay with the standard seat.

M: Okay. So, would you like to pay for your flight by cash or credit card?

You will hear a boy called Zack talking to a girl called Nell about training to run a marathon race. Look at the 5 sentences below. Decide if each sentence is TRUE or FALSE. If it is TRUE, choose A. If it is FALSE, choose B.

Zack: I think that I'm going to try running a marathon next year.

Nell: Is this another one of your ideas for losing weight?

Zack: Not really. It's mainly because I want a new challenge. Something physical.

Nell: But running 42 kilometers is a little too challenging, don't you think? You're not very fit at the moment.

Zack: Don't worry. I've worked out the best way for me to train. First I'll start off small with 10-kilometer runs. Later I'll move up to half marathons before trying a full one.

Nell: You'll have to be careful that you don't get injured. Don't you have a problem with one of your legs?

Zack: I used to, but not anymore. I have to be careful with my back, though. It can get really painful, especially in cold weather.

Nell: Let me know if you'd like me to help you when you begin training. I could do with the exercise, too.

Zack: Thanks for the offer, but no. I can't ask you to run with me.

Nell: Who said anything about running? I would ride behind you on a bicycle. I could carry water and food for you.

Zack: In that case, I'd be very grateful for your help. Otherwise it might be lonely running by myself. Not that I mind being alone, but it's always nice to have company.

You will hear a woman called Jackie and a man called George talking about a party.

Look at the 5 sentences below. Decide if each sentence is TRUE or FALSE. If it is TRUE, choose A. If it is FALSE, choose B.

Jackie: Hi, George, are you doing anything special this evening?

George: Hi, Jackie, not really. I was thinking of going to a movie.

Jackie: Well, a few of us are getting together this evening at my apartment to watch the world cup volleyball final on TV. Would you like to join us?

George: That sounds like fun. Yes, I would. What time shall I come over?

Jackie: Well, come over whenever you like. The match starts at 7:00, but we're going to have dinner first, at 6:30. It'll just be something simple, a few pizzas.

George: Great, I really like pizza. Could I bring something? How about dessert? Some cakes, ice cream, or how about chocolate cookies? Or something to drink?

Jackie: I've got plenty of juice and tea. But we need something sweet to finish off the meal. Cakes would be nice.

George: Right, I'll pick some up on the way over. There will be popcorn, right?

Jackie: Yes, of course, George. I got some especially for you!
