

I studied at the Center for Japanese Studies, Nanzan University in 2018 from January to May. I really enjoyed my stay here. After class, I used to come to Stella and Japan Plaza to do homework and get extra help in order to get better at Japanese. After graduating from Nanzan University CJS, I went back to Sweden and started working and I could use Japanese at my work place which would not been possible without the studies at Nanzan University. After Covid-19, I received scholarship to study mandarin in Taiwan, and I'm currently living there now and I also had great use of the kanjis I learned at Nanzan while learning mandarin as well.
