■ School Philosophy

[School Philosophy]

The university has a "school education based on Christian world view" as a school philosophy, and set out the educational motto of "Hominis Dignitati" to provide specific direction for that school philosophy.

[Purpose]

The graduate school of the university aims to have students study and conduct research on advanced and specialized academic theories and applications to deepen their understanding of their respective fields based upon the foundation they developed in their undergraduate studies. With a Christian world view, the program aims to cultivate people who contribute to the progress of culture and the welfare of mankind as members of society who have a deep awareness of human dignity.

Therefore, the university aims to accept capable people who have the necessary knowledge to engage in specialized research, and furthermore apply these research results to improve social life and humanity while respecting human dignity.

■ Three Policies

At the university, with the educational motto "for human dignity", a diploma policy (degree awards policy), curriculum policy (curriculum preparation / implementation policy), and admission policy (policy of accepting admissions) have been established for each graduate course and major of the graduate school. Please refer to the following web page for more information on these three policies.
